UC Scholarship Overview
FIGR’s UC Scholarship provides in-state Tuition and Student Service Fees for students who are California Native Americans but not members of a federally recognized tribe. This scholarship applies to undergraduate and graduate students for professional and non-professional degrees.

If you are a member in a Federally Recognized Tribe, please visit the UC’S Native American Opportunity Plan (NAOP) at UC Admissions (universityofcalifornia.edu)

Eligibility Requirements
To be eligible for the FIGR UC Scholarship, applicants must meet ALL of the following criteria:
1. Not a member of a Federally Recognized Tribe;
2. Either:
   - Have a Certificate of Degree of Indian Blood (CDIB) showing a California tribal affiliation; or
   - Descend from a person with a Certificate of Degree of Indian Blood (CDIB) showing a California tribal affiliation, on the California census rolls of 1928 or 1933, or on the California Judgement Fund Rolls of 1953 or 1972;
3. California Resident;
4. Current or newly admitted UC undergraduate, graduate, or professional school student, and
5. Enrolled in a Qualifying UC Degree Program

Documentation Required:
1. Completed Application
2. A copy of the applicant’s state-issued photo identification card or driver’s license
3. One of the following:
   - CDIB showing a California tribal affiliation; or
   - Original or Certified copies of original birth or death certificates for each generation of the applicants’ ancestry linking them back to a person with a CDIB showing a California tribal affiliation, on the California census rolls of 1928 or 1933, or on the California Judgement Fund Rolls of 1953 or 1972; and
4. Completed family tree form, if applicable
