

Judge Nicole Bershon
Los Angeles Superior Court
NBershon@lacourt.org

Judge Nicole Bershon was appointed to the Los Angeles Superior Court in 2013 by Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr. She currently sits at the Torrance Courthouse where she handles a felony trial calendar. Previously, she served as the Site Judge for the Inglewood Courthouse, overseeing daily operations. Prior to becoming a judge, she served as a court commissioner for two years.

Currently, Judge Bershon serves as the Co-Chair of the California Judges Association's Committee on Diversity and Inclusivity. She has previously served as Vice-Chair of the Los Angeles Superior Court's Diversity Committee, and has served on the Court's Executive, Community Outreach, Court Security, Jury, and Temporary Judge Committees. Judge Bershon is a Past President of the Women Lawyers Association of Los Angeles.

After graduating from law school, Judge Bershon entered private practice with Stutman, Treister & Glatt, and, later, with Irell & Manella, where she handled bankruptcy, civil and criminal litigation, and corporate matters. She then spent six years with the Los Angeles City Attorney's Office, handling both criminal and civil matters. Before she joined the bench, Judge Bershon spent almost ten years with the Office of the Inspector General for the Los Angeles Police Commission, first as an Assistant Inspector General, and later as the Inspector General for the LAPD.

Judge Bershon is a graduate of Princeton University, where she was co-captain of the women's rugby team. She received her law degree from the UCLA School of Law, where she was a founding member and served as Co-Editor-in-Chief of the UCLA Women's Law Journal. She is a Past President of the UCLA Law Alumni Association.