Dean Michael Waterstone

FAREWELL TO THE GRADUATES

Dean Michael Waterstone

MARIANO-FLORENTINO
(TINO) CUÉLLAR

PRESIDENT OF THE CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT
FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE
FORMER JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT OF CALIFORNIA

Mariano-Florentino (Tino) Cuéllar is the tenth president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. A former justice of the Supreme Court of California, he served two U.S. presidents at the White House and in federal agencies, and was a faculty member at Stanford University for two decades. He is a member of the U.S. Department of State's Foreign Affairs Policy Board.

At Stanford he was the Stanley Morrison Professor of Law and (by courtesy) Political Science. He directed the university's Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies, and previously, co-directed its Center for International Security and Cooperation and led Stanford's International Security Studies program. During nearly seven years on California's highest court while continuing to teach at Stanford, he wrote opinions addressing separation of powers and federalism, policing and criminal justice, democracy, technology and privacy, international agreements, and climate and environmental policy among other issues, and led the court system's operations to better meet the needs of millions of limited English speakers.

A member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, Cuéllar has published widely on American institutions and public law, international affairs, political economy, and technology's impact on law and government. In the first term of the Obama administration, he led the White House Domestic Policy Council's teams working on civil and criminal justice, public health, immigration, and regulatory reform. He also co-chaired the U.S. Department of Education's Equity and Excellence Commission, and earlier, co-chaired the Obama Biden Transition Immigration Working Group. He began his career at the U.S. Department of the Treasury in the second term of the Clinton administration.

He chairs the board of the William & Flora Hewlett Foundation and serves on the boards of Inflection AI and Harvard University. Previously, he chaired the boards of the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences and the Stanford Institute for Innovation in Developing Economies. He served on the National Academy of Sciences Committee on Social and Ethical Implications of Computing Research, and was a presidential appointee to the Council of the U.S. Administrative Conference. Born in Matamoros, Mexico, he grew up primarily in communities along the U.S. -Mexico border. He graduated from Harvard College and Yale Law School, and received a Ph.D. in political science from Stanford University. He and his wife, Judge Lucy Koh of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, have two children.

CLASS OF 2024 PROFESSOR OF THE YEAR

LA TOYA BALDWIN CLARK

Professor of Law

It is an annual tradition for the students in the graduating class to vote for a faculty member to be honored as Professor of the Year. This year's recipient is Professor LaToya Baldwin Clark.

LaToya Baldwin Clark is a Professor of Law at UCLA School of Law. Previously, she was an Earl B. Dickerson Fellow and Lecturer in Law at University of Chicago Law School. She writes and teaches about education law, family law, property law, and race and discrimination.

Baldwin Clark received her B.S. in Economics cum laude from the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, and her M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania in Criminology. She then earned her Ph.D. from Stanford University in Sociology and her J.D. from Stanford Law School. After law school, Baldwin Clark clerked for the Honorable Claudia Wilken of the Northern District of California as well as for the Honorable Goodwin Liu of the California Supreme Court.

Baldwin Clark's publications have appeared or will appear in the Yale Law Journal, the Virginia Law Review, the Columbia Law Review, the Northwestern Law Review, the University of Chicago Law Review, and the Harvard Civil Rights-Civil Liberties Law Review, among others. She previously earned the Professor of the Year award in 2020.
