

Tentative Law & Philosophy Course Offerings 2024- 2025

Fall Semester 2024

For Core Credit:

Law 217 (Intro to Phil Law), Prof. Amin Afrouzi

Law 418 (Contemporary Philosophy of Law), Prof. Mark Greenberg

Qualifying Courses

Law 266 Critical Race Theory, Prof. LaToya Baldwin-Clark

Law 511 Social Media and the Future of Democracy, Prof. Neil Netanel (year-long)*

Law 567 Direct Democracy Prof. Joseph Fishkin*

Law 649 Foundations of Jewish Ethics, Prof. Jonathan Zasloff*

January Term 2025

Law 967- Statutory Interpretation in The Roberts Supreme Court: The New Textualism, Prof. Mark Greenberg. [Qualifying Course]

Spring Semester 2025

For Core Credit:

Law NBA Philosophy of Immigration Seminar, Prof. Ariana Peruzzi

Law 555 Legal Theory Workshop, Prof. Mark Greenberg

Philosophy of Property, Philosophy Graduate Seminar (some slots for law students available), Prof. Seana Shiffrin (on Winter quarter schedule)

Phil 166 (some slots available to Law students), Prof. Ariana Peruzzi (on winter quarter schedule)

Qualifying Courses

Law 266 Critical Race Theory, Prof. Fanna Gamal

Law 273 International Human Rights, Prof. Abou Al-Fadl*

Law 612 Reproductive Justice, Prof. Cary Franklin*

Law 616 Theories of International Law, Richard Steinberg *

Law 664 The Executive Power: Law, Theory and History, Prof. Blake Emerson*

Law 668 8th Amendment Punishment Clause, Prof. Sharon Dolovich* [provisional]

Law 699 Freedom of Speech: Theoretical and Comparative Perspectives, Profs Neil Netanel and David Nimmer

- Credit contingent upon writing a philosophically oriented research paper for credit in the course, as attested by the course professor or the Director of the L & P program.